New Trustees Seated

The Bridgewater College Trustee Board at its meeting on Monday, November 5, inducted into office four new trustees elected either at large or by church districts. The four men new to the board are Dr. Robert McKinney, Mr. Wesley Naff, Mr. John A. Derr, and Mr. Ernest C. Spoerlein.

Rev. I. C. Senger, president of the board, presided over the trustee board meeting which brought trustees from New York City, Wilmington, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, and Florida. In a very spirited meeting, characterized by keen study and mature judgment, the board sounded confidence and optimism in the program of Christian higher education. Sessions of hard thinking and planning were enlivened by dinner in the dining hall and a visit to the new gym site.

The four new members of the college trustee board are recognized leaders in their fields and their several communities.

Dr. Robert M. McKinney '24BR

Robert Myers McKinney, a native of Carroll County, Maryland, graduated from Blue Ridge College in 1924 with a B.A. and Johns Hopkins University in 1927 with a Ph.D. He has been a research chemist and patent agent. He now serves as supervisor of patent policies and patent manager for the Pigments Department of the du Pont Company. He is the inventor or co-inventor of twenty U. S. patents, and is listed among the "American Men of Science." Dr. McKinney is married to Mary Englar McKinney '27 of New Windsor, Maryland, and resides in suburban Wilmington, Delaware. He is a member of the Lutheran Church, various civic and professional organizations, and since 1955 has served as a director of the Bridgewater Alumni Association. On the trustee Board, Dr. McKinney succeeds the late W. E. Wine.

John A. Derr '34

John A. Derr was born in Frederick County, Maryland, and graduated from Bridgewater College in the class of 1934 and attended the University of Baltimore and the University of New York in the field of law. Following service with the United States Coast Guard, Mr. Derr was named Deputy Clerk of Circuit Court and later elected a member of the House of Delegates for the State of Maryland. In 1954 he was elected Mayor of Frederick City, Maryland, for a four-year term. Industrially he is associated with the Russell Road Construction Firm of Frederick. Mr. Derr holds influential positions in the community and state organizations. He is an active member of the Frederick Church of the Brethren.

In 1942 he married Olive B. Brandenburg of Baltimore, and they have one daughter, Sandra Faye. His hobby is most naturally "sports", in which he excelled while at Bridgewater. He was elected to the trustee board to replace Jacob F. Replogle as the representative of the Eastern District of Maryland.

Ernest C. Spoerlein '33

Ernest C. Spoerlein is a native of Garrett County, Maryland, and graduated from Bridgewater College in 1933 and did graduate work at the University of Maryland. For twenty-four years he has been teaching, sixteen of which he has been doing guidance work.

NEW BUILDING STARTED

Tons of concrete have been poured in the forms reinforced with steel for the foundation of Bridgewater's new gymnasium. Throughout the fall, Nielsen Construction Company has been excavating, pouring foundation blocks, building concrete forms, and backing up mobile concrete mixers. Even, at times, lights have been strung up so that work could go on after dark.

According to plans, work will stop for the winter and be resumed in early spring. It is then hoped that work can be pushed to completion by the next basketball season.

Funds Needed to Complete

With the new gym underway, funds are needed immediately to assure the completion of this needed gym. The total cost is estimated to be approximately $445,000. To date only approximately $175,000 in cash and pledges has been designated for this new building. All funds, gifts and pledges, will be devoted to this project unless otherwise earmarked.

This is the time to make gifts toward

Notes From The Alumni President....

Every individual who has attended Bridgewater College has had the privilege of a unique experience. Perhaps a few students have not been able to profit thereby but for the majority it has been an experience which has widened their intellectual horizons, broadened their sympathies, deepened their spiritual insight, and inspired a greater meaning and purpose in life. The proof of the foregoing statement is found in the lives of the men and women who have graduated from the college. Over the years, alumni of Bridgewater have made valuable contributions to secondary and higher education in Virginia and surrounding states. Other alumni have served with distinction in the Christian ministry, in the professions of medicine and law, while still others have attained eminence in various fields of science. A recent study indicated that Bridgewater ranked sixth among the colleges in the state of Virginia on the basis of the percentage of graduates who go on for post graduate training in various fields.

To all of us who have profited so richly from this experience, I would like to suggest two thoughts. First, the opportunity which was ours was not of our own making in most cases. It was made possible by the foresight and self-sacrifice of the men who founded the institution and supported it during the years, to our parents who gave us the chance to go to college, and last, but not least, to the loyal and devoted men and women who have given their lives as teachers, often at salaries far below what they could have gotten elsewhere. To all of these we owe a debt of gratitude.

Second, the opportunities which we have had places upon us a responsibility. We are charged with a duty helping to provide the same sort of opportunities, for future potential students, that were afforded to us. Each of us has received a rich heritage from the past, and we are obligated not only to pass this heritage on to others but to improve it in the process.

All of us have watched the expansion and growth of the college over the

College Ranks High In Directing Students Into Graduate Studies

Bridgewater College is tied for sixth place among the 22 liberal arts colleges in Virginia in directing young men and women into graduate study in the arts, humanities, and the social sciences, according to a study made by the National Academy of Sciences, National Research Council, Washington, D. C.

The study based on the years from 1936-50, ranks bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degree granting institutions on the number of their graduates who later earned the Ph.D. degree. Such factors as size of enrollment and whether the colleges considered were for men or women or both were not taken into account.

Among the 22 Virginia Colleges considered, the University ranked first, Richmond University second, Sweetbriar ninth, Hollins tied with Lynchburg for eleventh place, Mary Baldwin and VMI tied for thirteenth place; Mary Washington and Radford tied for the fourteenth spot, and Madison was last.

Bridgewater's sixth place ranking among the 22 colleges in the state places her in the top third of the 933 undergraduate degree granting schools in the United States.

years with much satisfaction. The increase in enrollment has been noted. New buildings have been added and equipment and facilities improved. In all of these developments the alumni have made valuable contributions. But the needs have not all been met as yet. We still have problems to meet. The foundations for the new Physical Education Building are in and the building is under construction. Additional funds will be needed to complete this project. The college has incurred a debt in connection with the expansion of various facilities. Increased enrollment has brought about need for additional library space. These are just a few of the needs of the college. To help in meeting these needs, the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association has set up the sum of $50,000 as goal for alumni giving for the year 1956-57. While this is slightly more than the Alumni Association gave last year, it is less than the contributions of some years. The Association can provide this amount, and I believe they will do so. If those who have been making contributions in the past continue to do so and if the officers and members of local Alumni Chapters cooperate in helping with the plan by contacting those who have not contributed in the past, there is no reason to prevent us from exceeding the goal. This is a challenge to all loyal alumni.

Executive Com. Meets

In conjunction with Homecoming, October 20, 1956, the executive committee of the board of directors of the Alumni Association met for a brief but important meeting in the committee room of the college beginning at 10:30 A.M. Dr. B. O. Miller, president of the Alumni Association, presided with Mary C. Stoddard, Robert L. Sherfy, Ernest Spoerlein, Warren D. Bowman, Mattie V. Glick, and Jacob Replogle present.

Among the matters coming before the group, the item which received most attention was the implementing of the Association's goal for this year of $50,000 toward the Development Program. It was reported that some $2,000 had been received from approximately 63 alumni. As an outgrowth of the executive committee's concern, the executive secretary was asked to explore the suggestion of an advisory alumni council, wherein a number of interested alumni would be invited back to the campus to observe and advise. Such people would be Bridgewater advisors and boosters in their local community.

The sending out of the B. C. Bee, the student bi-weekly, was discussed, and it was agreed to continue the present policy until an alternate might be worked out. Some type of poll of the alumni will be taken to determine their interest in continuing to receive it.

The executive committee also gave some attention to the class reunions on Alumni Day, Saturday, June 1, 1957,

Letter Received

Among the many interesting letters that come to the attention of the alumni office, one of the most appreciated was a little note from Mrs. Cora Jacobs Myers '86, residing in Arlington, Virginia. She writes:

"Bridgewater College

Dear Friends:

I am an old lady (88) and can't see to write but the college has a warm place in my heart. Years ago when your school came from Spring Creek to Bridgewater, I was one of the first pupils of Prof. D. C. Flory and were friends. Then years later and B. C. was on College Street, you had a Primary Department and my two little children, Horwood and Williette, had their first schooling there. So I feel we are friends. I would love to really help, but I send my mite and a sincere God bless you in all your work.

Sincerely,

Cora A. Myers"

It is always good to hear from alumni, old and young, who still hold dear the sacred memories and the educational opportunities received at old Bridgewater, or Blue Ridge, or Daleville.

Best Football Year

Bridgewater's football Eagles, after a slow start, have crowned this season with glory. Having lost the first four games by fumbles, they came back to take three and tie one. In no game did they fail to score at least one touch-down. It was the best season for many years, and perhaps the success can be attributed to several reasons. Coaches Gunsten and Stille had the boys in excellent physical and mental condition. The early training camp may have helped at this point. The squad out for football this year was the largest in history and numbered upward to fifty. While six strong lettermen will be lost to the team next year, the prospects are good for an even better season.

The results of this year are:

B.C. 6	Hampden Sydney	18
B.C. 7	Guilford	12
B.C. 13	Davis-Elkins	14

Eaglettes' Hockey

The Bridgewater girls' hockey team, under the coaching of Patricia Meuli, have given a good account of themselves in spite of the loss of key players of last year. The season's total stands at 3 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie. Laura Fries was selected on the all Blue Ridge Tournament Team.

Cross Country

Coach "Doc" Jopson's cross country runners posted a good season winning 3 dual meets, placing second in the Virginia Little Eight Conference held on the campus, and second in the annual Mason-Dixon Conference run at Washington. While not able to take first place in the meets, the team was so balanced as to bunch up and capture many place-winning positions.

HOMECOMING A SUCCESS

Bridgewater College celebrated its 1956 Homecoming in a blaze of glory on Saturday, October 20, with over 2,000 on hand to enjoy the festivities of the perfect weekend.

The students began the celebration on Friday evening with a noise parade through the town which climaxed in a bonfire pep rally on the athletic field and a frolic in the gym.

Saturday morning the dormitories blossomed forth in rare decorations in keeping with the season. North Hall Annex copped the prize in design with the good ship "Bridgewater" sailing over Susquehanna.

The perfect fall afternoon with the Shenandoah Valley in a riot of color brought out a record-breaking crowd of alumni and friends. Bridgewater's Eagles never flew higher. Seemingly inspired by the event of Homecoming and fired up after four successive losses, the football team ran rough-shod over Susquehanna University of Selinsgrove, Pa., scoring touchdowns in each quarter for a victory of 27-0.

Following the game, alumni and students dropped in to the Blue Ridge Hall social room for victory Homecoming Tea. More alumni than ever before registered for Homecoming this year. The evening was closed by a movie in Cole Hall. On Sunday following Homecoming many alumni remained for the morning church worship and the Glee Clubs' first public program in the evening. Already plans are being made for an even bigger and better Homecoming next fall, possibly on October 19.

What Is A Christian College?

DR. WARREN F. GROFF

Assoc. Prof. of Bible and Religion

While it is difficult to give a very satisfactory definition of a "Christian College," as the extent of discussion in past years on this question indicates, we can suggest some of the guiding convictions which contribute to the distinctiveness of this approach to higher education.

One guiding conviction is that God's revelation or self-disclosure in and through Jesus Christ is the illuminating moment in human history. The judging and transforming love demonstrated in this event is the controlling center of human existence. From this vantage point, life itself is seen as a loving gift of the infinite and good Creator. Life then is purposeful and pregnant with responsibility. Life is not moving in an endless circle, but having come from God man is destined for a true relationship with God. The sacredness of human personality is impressed upon us. Having been created and redeemed by God, each individual is seen as essentially worthwhile. Therefore, each person in his wholeness is to be dealt with not as a number but as an individual with unique needs, interests and potentialities. Man does not live unto himself, but is part of a community, a community of love, called into existence through God's work in Jesus Christ. Christian higher education seeks to provide a suitable context for such a community on a college campus. In this way an association of individuals may become a meaningful fellowship, a vital togetherness which adds depth, breadth and height to human existence.

Another guiding conviction is that the search for and transmission of truth are processes most effectively carried on within the context of an explicit commitment to God as known specifically in Jesus Christ. If truly enlightened, such a commitment can be a "liberalizing" force. By committing oneself to God, who is the source of all truth, who 1956. Mr. Hoover, a life-long resident of the Timberville, Va., community, attended both Blue Ridge College and Bridgewater College. He took an active part in business affairs and organizations. He served as Mayor of Timberville for the last seven years, was a member of the Masons, a Shriner, and a member of several professional and civic groups. He was likewise a member and very active in the Timberville Church of the Brethren.

transcends and judges our partial insights, one is freed from an idolatrous devotion to something partial and relative. Truth is bigger than we are. Therefore our search for truth must be undertaken in an attitude of humility, and with the recognition that our partial insights must be supplemented by the equally partial insights of other finite minds. But this is not to break up truth into isolated fragments, for ultimately truth is one, as it centers in the mind of the infinite God. By committing oneself to God, who illuminates and supports, one is freed from the dogmatism of uncriticized presuppositions. The most dangerous preconceptions are those that are unrecognized and uncriticized. The enlarged vision and courage that can come from an enlightened religious commitment may bring to light scarcely recognized presuppositions, to be checked and analyzed. By committing oneself to God, who demands of us a deep-going decision, one is freed from the license of false neutrality. Commitment to God helps one to recognize and declare that there are certain areas of faith and practice where one simply cannot be neutral. At times one belief is not as good as another. At times one course of action is not as right as another. Christian higher education, by recognizing the need for explicit decision, is in a favorable position to take seriously the advice of the late Peter Marshall who, in a prayer, stated: "we need to stand for something, lest we fall for anything at all!"

Another guiding conviction is that while man is material and has material needs, he is basically a moral and spiritual creature of God. A secularistic materialism stands condemned. Education is to equip one to make a living, but this is not the primary goal. The more basic concern for moral and spiritual development cannot be neglected. If this is neglected, as Howard Lowry reminds us, we may reach the stage in science and technology where "we know how to do almost anything, but have lost track of why anything we do should be done." A superficial view of greatness stands condemned. Greatness consists not in worldly acclaim or in things accumulated but in service rendered. The pagan ideal is to lord it over others. The Christian perspective motivates higher education to counter this with the ideal of Christ: "If any man would be first, he shall be last of all and servant of all."

Grant Received

Dr. Thurman Grossnickle '43x, assistant professor of chemistry at Bridgewater College, has been made a Frederick Gardner Cottrell Grant of $4000 by the Research Corporation of New York City to continue his study of the mechanism of the dienone-phenal rearrangement, according to Charles H. Schauer, director of grants.

Dr. Grossnickle's study is important, for the dienone-phenal rearrangement is used in a number of studies and syntheses, especially in the fat-soluble compounds formed in the endocrine organs, such as the thyroid glands. Then, making clear the mechanism of a chemical reaction not only leads to a fuller understanding of that particular reaction, but it also throws light on the ultimate understanding of the interactions of atoms and atomic groups in general.

Marion Wampler, a Bridgewater senior from Linville, will assist Dr. Grossnickle in his research. He was a fellow in geochemistry this summer at Columbia University.

Dr. Grossnickle is an experienced research chemist. He has been a chemist in the Jackson Laboratory of the du Pont Company, a Shell fellow at Harvard, a Monsanto fellow at Wayne University, and a post-doctoral fellow at the University of Rochester.

Dr. Grossnickle is the second Bridgewater chemistry professor to receive a research grant this year. Dr. Lowell Heisey received a grant in June from the University of North Carolina to develop new compounds related to maleic hydrazide.

Chapter Hi-Lights

The North Rockingham Chapter had a family picnic-style meeting at the Plains Recreation Park, Timberville, Va., on Sunday afternoon, September 23, presided over by Lowell Miller. In spite of the rain which conveniently stopped a 'long' speech by the new executive secretary, the gathering enjoyed an abundant picnic supper in the pavilion.

The Richmond Chapter met in the Central Y.M.C.A. on Friday evening, November 16, for its annual dinner meeting with Chapter President Edwin F. Smith, Jr., '51x in charge. Dean John W. Boitnott of the college was the principal speaker. Though attendance was limited because of the rainy weather, about 23 alumni and friends were present. Myron S. Miller '47 was elected the new president of the chapter.

Five members of the class of 1935, with their families and friends, had a midsummer get-together at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Jacob S. Huffman '35, Dayton, Va.

The Baltimore Chapter is planning their annual dinner meeting for February 14 or 15 in keeping with the Valentine theme. The exact time and place is to be announced. Carl Seidler '42 is president.

The Delmarva Chapter, under Alton L. McDaniel '43x, plans to have their first banquet next spring, perhaps May 4, in the Bethany Church of the Brethren in Farmington, Del.

Other Chapters should be laying plans for their annual meeting. Copies of minutes of executive committee meetings should be forwarded to the alumni office so that there is sufficient time for all arrangements.
